We are lucky to be able to hold our fall and spring retreats at WAPO again this year. There are some changes- Wapo is no longer requiring proof of Covid vaccination or testing, and no longer requires a waiver for Covid. Prices have increased slightly but are still very reasonable.

There will be a limit of 24 overnight attendees this year; this will be on a first come-first served basis. We won't need to mask in our work areas but suggest that you mask with other groups and WAPO employees. If you feel that you have contracted Covid during our retreat and/or have exposed others at retreat, please get tested as soon as possible, and if positive inform us and WAPO.
